COMMANDER'S CORNER

This Spring Intercession and Spring Break could be a great opportunity to get your teenager involved in volunteer work. I know that I talk about volunteering in a lot of newsletters. I do it because I think that helping someone else is a powerful educational and empowering experience. When you help someone else improve their quality of life you change the world just a little bit; that's powerful! To know at a gut level that YOU, a single human being, have the ability to change the world for the better. Even if you only change things a little, that's still an impact.

Volunteering is a huge part of our city's culture. Please visit our city's website (<http://www.nashville.gov/Live/Get-Involved.aspx>) and look for a volunteer opportunity that fits your child and your life. Volunteer work can be an incredibly life changing experience, both for you and the people you help.

Intercession and Spring Break

Intercession and Spring Break will be here before we know it. With them often comes a time when our children have increased free time than usual and at the same time less supervision than usual. There's a thing about old sayings, when your Grandmother said, "Idle hands are the devil's playground", because she'd seen it be true enough times it merited repeating.

There are three reasons that we sometimes see an increase in crime this time of year. 1) Children who would normally be safe at school are spending time outside of their accustomed places and become victims of crime. 2) Normally well behaved children are tempted into doing things they shouldn't through boredom. 3) Many children are out of school, so those who are up to something they shouldn't are able to hide their activity among the children who aren't doing anything wrong.

Please plan ahead and have activities scheduled for your child while they are out of school.

Drug Bust

Specialized Investigations Division narcotics detectives charged three persons in connection with a ten pound package of marijuana sent to Nashville through the U.S. mail.

Detectives had received information that the package likely contained contraband and were nearby when Terrell Jerome Mills, 24, came into the post office at 2723 Dickerson Pike to pick up the parcel. Mills, of Rainwood Court, had been dropped off by persons in a gray Nissan truck who traveled to nearby Queen Street and pulled into a driveway, presumably to wait for Mills.

When Mills received the package, detectives approached and asked him what was inside. He claimed he didn't know exactly what, but acknowledged it wasn't good. Mills said he was

JOELTON

(BEAR HOLLOW RD NORTH TO THE CHEATHAM & ROBERTSON COUNTY LINES, LITTLE MARROWBONE/EATONS CREEK EAST TO I-24)

While there weren't been any significant felony arrests in Joelton last month, we have started to see some thefts in Joelton near the Cheatham County line. These thefts have all occurred near major travel routes within a relatively short distance into Davidson County. With the increased enforcement on the other side of the county line, it's possible that this change in criminal behavior is related.

Please watch out for each other. If you see someone who looks out of place, that you don't recognize, or acts oddly please say "Hello". It's an informal, non-confrontational way of learning who someone is and what they're doing there. It has the advantage of being welcoming rather than threatening. A person who is there legitimately will usually take a friendly "Hello" as a warm and welcoming gesture. While a person who is doing something they shouldn't will see it as a sign that their activities are being watched and "Committing a crime here" would be a bad idea.

I know it seems almost too easy and maybe a bit old fashioned, but as part of an over all crime fighting strategy, it's a very effective tactic.
